SEIEC to Use Helicopter to Spray Rights-of-Way

ITEMS: An old landmark in Cottage township moved down the road yesterday. On wheels.

It was the Cottage Grove schoolhouse, no longer in use. Clint Baker bought it from the district after the children started going other places to school.

Yesterday he got W. H. Huston of Harrisburg to move it to his place about a mile and a quarter east of where it had stood for at least 60 years. That's what some of the fellows out around there said—the building was at least 60 years old.

Mr. Huston jacked up the building, put wheels under it and moved it to the Baker place, where it will be a barn and storage shed. The fellows around who were looking it over as it was being prepared for setting it down on the concrete foundation said it looked to be in pretty good shape, too.

The school last operated year before last.

THESE MODERN TIMES sometimes get you. The Southeastern Illinois Electric co-operative this year is going to use a helicopter to get rid of part of the brush on the powerline rights-of-way.

Tom Clevenger, SEIEC manager, said the helicopter from Stull's, Inc., is expected to start next week on spraying the rights-of-way in wooded areas of southern Gallatin county for the control of brush.

Chemical to be used to kill out the brush is absolutely non-poisonous to livestock or to human beings, the SEIEC publication declares.

Work will be done with a helicopter to determine the feasibility of this method of brush control.

OBSERVATION. Drove out to Lake Harrisburg yesterday and water was coming down over the spillway. That means the lake is still full.

THE CARBONDALE PAPER the other day carried a feature story on A. M. Mitchell, formerly of Harrisburg. It revealed that four or five squirrels come into his house daily for their handout of English walnuts, which they take right out of his hand.

This practice started a couple of years ago when he discovered squirrels were eating apples from a tree in his yard. He started feeding them outside, first laying the nuts on the ground. Each day he would put them closer to his house and pretty soon they were walking in the back door to eat his offering.

Mitchell has a 15-year-old Cocker Spaniel, Cappy, who doesn't bother the squirrels at all. He just lies on the floor and watches them.

Agent of Last Husband Claims Body of Gun Moll

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. — Bodies of two executed murderers remained unclaimed in San Quentin Prison today but the remains of their gun moll, attractive Barbara Graham, was claimed by an agent of her last husband.

The trio of killers died Friday in the gas chamber after an agonizing last-minute attempt to save them.

Authorities said the bodies of Jack Santo and Emmett Perkins, leaders of the notorious "Mountain Murder Mob," would be cremated at the Napa State Hospital. The two killers died side by side, just three hours after Mrs. Graham, 32-year-old former prostitute, was put to death.

All three were condemned for the murder of a wealthy Burbank, Calif., widow, Mabel Monahan, but Santo and Perkins were also convicted of the Chester, Calif., massacre of grocer Guard Young and three tiny children in 1952, and were suspected of committing several other killings.

Mrs. Graham, mother of three children, received two last minute temporary stays of execution, but they delayed her death only about 90 minutes.

OIL REPORT: Eight Wells, Four Dry Holes During Week

From Tri-State Oil Report

Eight oil wells and four dry holes comprised the completions for Saline county for the period ending June 2.

There, where it was announced a few days ago that combined initial production could be about 7000 barrels per day, the No. 1 was flowing 840 barrels per day through a 3-1/2 inch choke and the No. 2 was flowing 1272 barrels per day through a 3-3/4 inch choke. After fracture the No. 1 flowed 145 barrels an hour at a rate of 3480 barrels per day and the No. 2 flowed 190 barrels an hour at the rate of 4560 barrels per day.

Other producers were:

Truman Will Not Campaign Unless Asked

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Former President Truman said Friday night he will not campaign in 1956 unless requested by the Democratic National Committee but will support any presidential candidate selected by the national convention.

Mr. Truman indicated he will support unsuccessful 1952 Democratic candidate Adlai E. Stevenson for the nomination.

"Maybe I'll have some influence on the choice," the former Chief Executive said. He was in Cleveland to address a $100-per-plate dinner to raise funds for his Truman Memorial Library at Independence, Mo.

"Will a duck swim?" the 71-year-old former Chief Executive countered when a newsmen asked if he still favored Stevenson.

Then he quickly added that "I'm not going to do any campaigning unless asked."

Mr. Truman declined comment on most political questions, never mentioned politics at the dinner but said earlier that "partisan politics might be behind the confused anti-polio vaccine program."

Mr. and Mrs. Truman were guests of industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton, and visited his Acacia Farms at nearby Northfield Friday afternoon. Eaton announced at the dinner that the subscription had exceeded $75,000, topping the previous high of $70,000 for the library set in Philadelphia.

Austrian POWs Report Yanks In Soviet Camps

Claim Americans
Include At Least Four Air Force Fliers

VIENNA, Austria (UP)—Austrian war prisoners returning from long Russian captivity said today they saw "many" Americans in Soviet slave camps.

The Austrians said the Americans included at least four U. S. Air Force fliers.

One returnee said some of the Americans may now be dead. He said he tried unsuccessfully to bring out snapshots of a group of American fliers. But he said the Russians seized the films a few days ago.

A trainload of 250 Austrians and "ethnic Germans"—those of German background—reached freedom in Austria today at dawn after serving Soviet prison terms dating back to early World War II.

They were the first batch of prisoners to be freed by the Russians under terms of the newly signed Austrian state treaty.

An ethnic German, captured while fighting with Adolf Hitler's forces during the war, said he met and got photographs of four U. S. airmen in 1948 at a slave labor camp in the Karaganda region some 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow.

Reports by other returning prisoners involved an American identified as "John Turbin," and still another identified as Johnny Hopkins. The name "Hopkins" cropped up when other Austrians were freed from Russia last April 29.

Today's returnees said Hopkins was about 30 years old, fair-haired and blue-eyed. They said he had been seen in various Russian camps including the infamous Camp Vorkuta in 1950 and Camp Potma near Moscow in 1954.

Hopkins was believed to be the son of a Dutch jeweler who emigrated to the United States. The son was reared and educated in the United States, returned to Europe after World War II, and was arrested in Berlin while holding "some kind of official American job," a returnee said.

Two freed fliers eager to get back in air.

HONOLULU, T. H. (UP) — Two of the four Korean War pilots released from Chinese Communist prison camps said today they can hardly wait to get back "in the wild blue yonder."

The two, Capt. Harold Fischer of Sweet City, Iowa, and 1st Lt. Ronald Parks of Omaha, expressed their desires after they inspected a group of Hawaii Air National Guard F-86 Sabrejets Friday.

The two men, and ex-prisoners Lt. Col. Edwin L. Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., and Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., are holding a reunion in Honolulu with their families, who were flown to Hawaii by special Air Force plane from the U. S.

Two tourists die of thirst crossing the Sahara Desert

LONDON — Two British tourists died of thirst while trying to cross the Sahara Desert in French West Africa last month, according to diplomatic reports released today. A third survived but was reported still hospitalized in serious condition from his ordeal.

A French military search party found Miss Muriel Taylor of Chester, England, and Alain Cooper of Kenya, dead in their small English-made car less than 50 miles from the oasis town of Guezazam, according to reports from the British Consul at Dakar. The reports were released by the Foreign Office.

The third tourist, Peter Barnes, was picked up by an Algerian truck driver. The truck driver said he found Barnes wandering about almost unconscious from lack of water. The others, he said, were sitting in the car nearby and he ordered them to follow his truck. But somehow they lost contact, the reports said.

Congress Fails to Revive Eisenhower's Compulsory Military Reserve Program

By United Press

A new effort to bring President Eisenhower's compulsory military reserve program back to life in Congress has failed, it was disclosed today.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee withdrew the measure from consideration recently after the House adopted two amendments aimed at barring segregation in the National Guard. Vinson said the combined opposition to this by Southerners and by those opposing the bill anyway would kill it.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. (D-N.Y.), Negro congressman who sponsored the amendments, disclosed today that he has tried unsuccessfully to work out a solution with Vinson. He said he suggested that reference to the National Guard be left out altogether, but that Vinson would not agree to this.

Powell said Vinson told him the situation was "hopeless" with the amendments in the bill and that the Pentagon would have to keep operating the present reserve program.

But Powell said "we've got to make up our minds if national emergency is more important than States' Rights."

Other congressional news:

Uniforms: Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr. (D-NC) called on the Defense Department to blacklist contractors involved in reported graft in the purchase of military uniforms. Ervin is a member of the Senate Investigating Subcommittee which has heard testimony of alleged bribes and payoffs in handling uniform contracts. He said the subcommittee has turned up what "looks like a rotten situation to me."

Minimum Wage: Chairman Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) of a Senate labor subcommittee said he is confident the full committee and the Senate itself will approve a bill boosting the minimum wage from 75 cents an hour to $1. The subcommittee approved the proposal by a 4-to-1 vote Friday. The administration had requested that the minimum wage be raised to 90 cents.

Commonwealth: Rep. Powell said he will introduce a bill soon to give commonwealth status to Guam, the Virgin Islands and Samoa. Powell headed a three-man House interior subcommittee which returned from the Virgin Islands last week. He said the United States should be able to take over the islands.

During the conference, the statement said, Burns told Nasser: "I am afraid the Jews might attempt to seize the Gaza strip."

It said Nasser replied: "If such an attempt takes place it means war."

Nasser's words to Burns were seen by observers as a blunt warning to Israel that Egypt is now ready for full-scale hostilities if the recent series of border clashes cannot be stopped by the United Nations.

The widespread feeling among the Arabs is that Israel wants to seize the Gaza strip, which is now held by Egypt. But they believe the Israelis first want to drive off by intensive artillery fire the 200,000 Arab refugees encamped in the Egyptian area to remove the possibility of having to support them.

On the other hand, Egyptian forces in the Gaza strip are known to have been tremendously reinforced with men and weapons since the Israeli raid on the Egyptian post at Gaza last Feb. 28 when 38 Egyptians were killed and 31 were wounded in the attack.

Run By Fire Department

The fire department made a run at 1:10 p. m. yesterday to the home of Orval Kupatt, 1325 Saline street. Fire Chief L. G. Martin said that a kerosene burner exploded but that damage was confined to smoke damage to the interior of the house.

RECEIVES DEGREE — Elbert Alexander Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Reynolds, 1129 South Land, received his degree of Bachelor of Science in Education at commencement exercises held May 27 at Arkansas State college, Jonesboro, Ark. Mrs. Oscar Reynolds attended the graduation program and was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Reynolds and daughter, Carla Rae.

Dr. E. M. Travelstead to Sell Shorthorns at Auction Saturday

The end to a nearly twenty year career in breeding some of the nation's finest Shorthorn beef cattle will come when Dr. E. M. Travel-stead, Harrisburg, will completely disperse his Shorthorn herd at the farm near Eldorado, next Saturday, June 11. The large farm has recently been sold, so the entire herd must be sold.

The herd was founded in 1936.
By 1942 Dr. Travelstead was a regular consignee to leading auction sales and the Hillcroft herd was introduced to the national show ring scene. In 1948 Hillcroft Victory was the grand champion bull of the International Congress Sale held at the International Livestock Show in Chicago, and sold for $3750 to Henry Dietz, Wake-neey, Kans. In 1951, a full brother, Hillcroft Harmony, was the grand champion of the National Futurity in Louisville and sold for $2000 to Art Duncan, Egan, S. D. In 1953 Hillcroft Perfect won at the National Futurity going to Chas. M.
Meachem Jr. and Sons, Morganfield, Ky., at $1000; and in 1954 Hillcroft Good News 2nd, the first calf by the present Hillcroft herd sire, was the grand champion bull of the Kentucky Futurity going to Mississippi State College at $2375.

Many From Scotland

In 1952 Dr. Travelstead journeyed to Scotland, the original home of the Scotch Shorthorn, and there selected ten heifers. These cattle arrived in this country in 1953 and twenty-seven of the females in the Hillcroft herd today descend from this importation.

"The herd has been both pleasure and profit," says Dr. Travel-stead, "and we regret the necessity of having to disperse. Through this herd we have made warm friendships with cattlemen and others throughout North America and Scotland. The herd is at its all time peak from a standpoint of producing quality. We do not expect prices that will be out of line for the average cattleman, and we hope that this dispersion will serve as the foundation for a number of strong new Shorthorn herds in this area. While every animal must be sold, because we no longer have a farm, we look forward to the time when we will again join the ranks of Shorthorn breeders. These cattle have been profitable for us and we are confident they will be for those who buy them."

C. D. Swaffar, Tulsa, Okla., will be the auctioneer. The sale is being managed by Don Longley, field representative of The Shorthorn World magazine, at Aurora, Ill.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer
One of the botanists on the Southern Illinois university faculty has passed along a State Natural History Survey report by G. H. Boewe pointing out that farmers in the southern third of the state may expect rather heavy amounts of bacterial wilt of corn this year. The report is included in the May 15 U.S.D.A. research service issue of "The Plant Disease Reporter."

The report is based on a study of the number of corn flea beetles surviving the winter. The beetles are winter carriers of the disease, also known as Stewart's disease, which damages susceptible corn.
For the state generally the damage possibilities are not quite as great as they were in 1953 and 1954. Not much trouble is expected in the northern half of the state.

There are two damage possibilities to corn from Stewart's disease, according to the report. One is early season wilt and death of plants, especially in sweet corn.
Normally this causes little trouble to seedlings of field corn. The other is the late season leaf blight which may become so severe as to cause earlier death to the corn plant. A survey in the East St.
Louis and Urbana area in May showed few beetles in corn, so the early season wilt problem was not severe this year.

Crop specialists in the SIU agriculture department pass along the information that corn wilt is of more concern to growers of sweet corn than to producers of field corn. Sweet corn growers try to combat the danger with wilt resistant strains of hybrid corn.

Farmers with old pastures needing renovation should be making plans now. The suggested procedure is to plow down the old sod some time in June after the pasture has been grazed heavily and the vegetative growth begins slowing down. That will depend partly

SOMETHING TO MOO ABOUT—This Holstein cow is a real producer. Owned by Kenneth Welkers of Pearl City, Ill., she recently produced the quadruplets shown above. Such births are said to occur only once in about 10 million times. Previously, she's given birth to a single calf and to twins, in that order.

Good Beef Cattle

By L. B. Kimmel

Good beef cattle are one of the best ways to market our most easily grown crop which is grass.
With the increase in population and more people developing a preference for good meat in the diet, beef will continue to be good property.

Beef cattle fit into good soil management by using grass which prevents washing away of the top soil if cultivated crops are used on upland.

There are other ways to figure profits from an acre of land. If an acre will produce 300 to 350 pounds of beef per season at 15c per pound, this is $45 to $50 per acre profit. This is without the expense of plowing, disking, seed cost, cultivation, harvesting and marketing crops. After all these expenses are taken out the farmer is lucky or fortunate to make $25 or $30 profit besides subjecting the soil to erosion. There is less work during the hot summer. The cattle will do the harvesting for you.
The above figures are very conservative, as beef steers should average 15c per pound. Good grasses and legumes have produced more beef per acre on experiments at Dixon Springs. Dairy animals, beef or sheep utilize grass and legumes more efficiently than other livestock.

Good pastures must be harvested by good quality farm animals.

upon the amount of rainfall. Soil moisture so far has been good and grass probably will continue growing somewhat longer this summer than in drier periods.

After the pasture has been plowed down the field should be summer fallowed to kill weeds and volunteer grass until seeding time comes in late August or early September.

One essential practice in renovation is to apply lime and plenty of fertilizer before seeding.

Growers of field corn now pay little attention to it. Escaping seedling wilt troubles, there is no great damage as a result of later leaf blight. Universal use of hybrids in Illinois seems to forestall serious blight trouble.

As a facet of nature study the 20 members of the class this week placed eggs under the hen, which was brought to school for the occasion by its owner, Dr. Sina Mott, director of nursery school and kindergarten education at Southern. This Week at DIXON SPRINGS

(A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff).

Golconda High Students Tour Station

The geography class from Gol-conda high school had a three-hour vacation from classrooms recently to visit the Dixon Springs Experiment Station. While here they learned from Lee Gard, soil conservatist, that soil losses may run amazingly high. Lee brought the loss down to everyday terms by saying that "for every bushel of corn produced on 9 percent slope land 600 pounds of top soil are lost." They also had a chance to see Laverne Bailey and Lowell Ditterline, chief tree measurers, make their weekly growth measurement of a white oak tree. This particular tree had grown .002 inch in the past week. The measurements are made with a very sensitive instrument, and the growth is then correlated with moisture conditions and soil type.

A Straight-Through Trench Silo

A trench silo that is open at both ends would seem to have some advantages over a trench with a single opening. Such a trench was dug through a "hog back" ridge on the Station, and one end is now being filled with Ladino and fescue forage, but mainly Ladino. We proposed to fill the other end with corn this fall with the idea of feeding from both ends. Corn silage will supply the energy and Ladino silage the protein. The two fed together should make supplementary feeds—either protein or energy feeds—unnecessary.

DDT for Flies on Beef Cattle

Cattle on the Station are being sprayed with DDT to control horn flies. George Cmarik, cattle researcher, uses 8 pounds of 50 percent wettable powder in 100 gallons of water. One spraying will last for three to four weeks if cattle are wet well with about 1-2 gallon of spray per cow.

Bulls Going In

Breeding groups are being made up and bulls are being put on pasture with the cows. All cows on the Station are pasture bred, the bulls remaining in only two to three months. Well-grouped calv-

U. I. Economist Sees Farm Progress In Southern Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—A University of Illinois farm economist said in a bulletin released today that southern Illinois is undergoing an "agricultural revolution."

But J. E. Wills, the economist, said southern Illinois farmers still have a lot of problems to battle. He said the main problem is the unfertilized "claypan" soil, hard-baked and fast-drying.

Wills said farmers are licking the claypan problem with fertilization and mechanization. But he said many farmers can't get enough capital to invest in the material necessary for land improvements.

Wills said another sign of progress is the abandonment of low-profit crops such as redtop for larger acreages of high-profit crops such as soybeans. Soybean acreage in the area multiplied 10 times from 1929 to 1949.

Seventeen Illinois dairy plants have donated 22 dairy technology scholarships worth $1,000 each for four years of study at the University of Illinois.

Sell Cull Dairy Cows This Spring

If you are holding unprofitable dairy cows until the beef market goes up, remember that prices of lower grades of beef are usually higher in the spring than in the fall.

J. G. Cash, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says neither the outlook for prices of lower grades of beef for prices of dairy products appears to warrant holding unprofitable dairy cows.

In addition, Cash points out, selling unprofitable cows will increase your dairy earnings by cutting feed costs and will also take surplus milk off the market.

On most Illinois farms it will pay to cull, as unprofitable, cows of the higher testing breeds that produce less than 5,000 pounds of milk a year and cows of the lower testing breeds that produce less than 7,500 pounds, Cash says.

You should also consider getting rid of cows that are diseased and those that are shy breeders.

Safe operation of any machine depends entirely on the operator.
O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says the operator must always be alert and agile if he is to avoid some of the emergencies that cause serious accidents.

Through training and experience, the best operator acquires habits that cause him to respond automatically to dangerous conditions, Hogsett says.

When learning to operate a new farm machine, get someone to show you how to operate it safely before you try it alone. Always be conscious of danger to other people around your machine. Never let them ride on your tractor or on any machine that is being pulled.

Long hours of operation cause the operator to become tired and increase the chances of accidents.

Your clothes should fit snugly, with no loose ends. Loose coat tails, large or torn trouser cuffs, torn coat or shirt sleeves and double thumb mittens often cause accidents around moving machinery.

To help reduce farm machinery accidents, learn how to handle them safely and what precautions to take with individual machines, and then practice until you automatically make the right response.

Fashion-Plate Bandit Disappears After Robbing Bank

CHICAGO — Police searched today for a fashion-plate bandit who never said a word as he robbed a bank of $1,600 and then calmly disappeared into a crowd gathered for a parade.

"He just stared at me the whole time with big brown eyes," Laverne Lucht, 25, teller at the Michigan Avenue National Bank, said.

The handsome bandit, dressed in a charcoal-gray suit with matching tuxedo jacket, was so suave and smooth that a woman standing in line behind him was unaware of the robbery.

Miss Lucht said the bandit displayed no weapon when he appeared at her window Friday but thrust a note at her which said "atomic bomb" and warned her she would "get hurt" if she sounded an alarm.

The note convinced her he meant business, she said, and she turned over the money in $50 and $100 bills.

The measure extends coverage to employers of four or more workers, and sets up a graduated scale of payments. It provides for a $28 payment for a person who has no non-working spouse and no child; $31 for one child; $34 for two children; $37 for three children; and $40 for four or more children. Milkman's Wife Held For Murdering Lover, Father of Her 4 Children PETAL, Miss. — Police held a milkman's wife today on charges of murdering a lover who fathered four children during eight years of early-morning courtship while her husband made his rounds.

The woman, Mrs. Charlie Celeste Ladner, 29, admitted shooting William Archie Nobles, 44, to death with a 12-gauge shotgun when he sought to pay another call at her home early Friday. She claimed self defense.

Officers said the milkman, W. V. Ladner, apparently did not know he was not the father of the children, two of whom died, until his wife confessed the affair and produced a "bunch of love letters" to prove it.

IN REMEMBRANCE
In loving memory of my father, David Upchurch, who died six years ago June 5.
Sleep on, dear father, it has been six long years Since you left our hearts filled with sadness and tears.
Yours was a heart so jolly and gay, Scattering sunshine all along the way.
You know how we loved you, yes, love you yet, Though God took you from us, we can never forget.
Sadly missed by his son, Frank Upchurch.

Generations slaved away their lives to build it. The wealth of kings and the skill of engineers were poured into its construction. And, when it was finished, it roamed a vagabond course over the mountains for hundreds of miles, like a great grey dragon breathing defiance from every segment of its poised body.

It was a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wanted no more war... and the men who built it actually believed it would protect them from aggression.

The Americans have a hydrogen bomb. It, too, is a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wants no more war. And millions actually believe it will protect, not only America, but the whole world from aggression.

The only sure protection against war is the fortress that saves mankind from the evils in men's hearts which foment war. That fortress is the Christian religion. But even our religion is not a sure protection until it reaches the hearts of all men.

Support your church. Help it build the foundations of Peace in your own heart. And with your prayers and your purse advance its tireless efforts to build those same foundations in the hearts of all men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Sin and Repentance'

II Chronicles 33
GOLDEN TEXT: "Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness." (Ps. 143:10).

INTRODUCTION: It sometimes happens that good parents will have an evil son or daughter. Out of Christian homes, where prayer is offered daily, sometimes will come a son or daughter who forgets God. Such is the case in the Sunday School lesson for this week.

Manasseh was the son of the good king Hezekiah. No more worthy king had sat upon the throne. Hezekiah was a God-fearing, God-loving man. His son, Manasseh, was just the opposite. What caused him to be evil? Was it the influence of an evil mother? We do not know. What causes evil sons and daughters to come out of good Christian homes today? We do not know. Certainly it cannot be blamed on poor training in every case.

Read the first nine verses of II Chron. 33, and you will see just how evil Manasseh really was. His name means, "one who forgets God." Manasseh did forget God. The greatest tragedy is that he "seduced Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem so that they did evil." My! the power of influence.

I GOD'S PUNISHMENT (V. 10-11)
God always chastises them that he loves. This is true today. Note in these verses that it was his own people whom God warned. It was not the pagan nations near at hand when punishment came, it came to his people. So it is today. No individual nor Christian nation can forget God, and rebel against Him, without suffering punishment.

God permitted Manasseh and his people to suffer defeat at the hands of the Assyrians, because of their sin. The same God is on His throne today. The same fate could meet with individuals and nations today. II MANASSEH'S REPENTANCE (V. 12-13) Manasseh repented. Repentance

Additional Church Notes On Page Three

is a change of mind and heart. It takes all there is of a man to really repent of his sins. However, when man does repent God always forgives. God heard Manasseh's prayer. He forgave him and "brought him again to Jerusalem into His kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that Jehovah was God." III MANASSEH LATER YEARS (V. 14-17) Manasseh proved that he meant business by restoring the temple and the worship of God. He did away with all idols. He had led his people into sin, and now he commands them to turn back to the Lord.

"For the sake of his repentance, Manasseh was spared a little longer." He realized the mistake of living a sinful life. After his repentance, God blessed him and his people. The same can be true with any person today.

CONCLUSION (V. 18-20): What influence is your life casting upon the lives of others today? Every person is having an influence for good or bad. God will forgive when you repent. He will bless you and your influence and make you a blessing to others as long as you follow Him.
